

Below is a link to the National Council for Curriculum Assessment (NCCA) review of Relationships and Sexuality Education (RSE) in schools. This is a document which will advise the Minister of Education and will ultimately guide how and what children are taught in RSE, in both Primary and Post Primary schools.

The link gives both a complete and summarised version of the RSE Review and ways in which all parents, individuals and organisations can make written submissions. These can be found by clicking on the link below, opening the 'Review of Relationship and Sexuality Education' tab and following the appropriate links.

We would encourage parents to look at the review and make their views known
